What is improv comedy?

Unlike “Standup Comedy” in which one performer tells pre-planned jokes to the audience, improvisational comedy involves a whole group of performers making up scenes and playing games on the spot based on audience suggestions.

What’s a ComedySportz match like?

A ComedySportz match features two teams of comedy athletes competing for laughs and points, with a referee keeping things moving and calling fouls. For instance, in “Shakespeare” a team will improvise a scene inspired by an audience suggestion in Shakespearian style. In “Elimination Rap” players will create a rap on the spot, trading off each other’s phrases, getting thrown out if they fall off the meter, fail to rhyme or get too def. In “Forward/Reverse” the referee sends the scene back and forth at will, as though scanning a scene in a VCR, sending the athletes into a frenzy. Every show is different, with different players, different games, and different audiences supplying new suggestions. Everyone has a good time and no one gets offended, and if an athlete steps beyond the boundaries of good taste, the “brown bag foul” (a brown paper sack placed over the offending player’s head) will be called to set things straight. If you think “clean” is boring, you owe it to yourself to check us out. It’s anything but boring.

What can ComedySportz do for my organization?

We’ve entertained at an amazing array of companies, large and small. ComedySportz is completely flexible and scalable, from a 15 minute United Way Kickoff to a fully produced World Tour; in spaces from living rooms to outdoor festivals, and everything in between. Our show always tailors itself to your group, and it’s always positive, hilarious and clean.

If you like, you can have your event at the ComedySportz Theatre. It’s located in the Massachusetts Avenue Arts and Theatre District, in the midst of exciting restaurants, galleries, coffeehouses and other great urban treasures.

How much does all this amazingness cost?

Our rates are surprisingly gentle. Call for a quote!

We’ll come to your office, your banquet hall, your breakroom...to perform our interactive improvised show. We can even tailor make the show for you by adding information about your company and your people into the show! We’re fun to watch and even more fun when your friends and co-workers join in the zany antics! You never have to worry with ComedySportz—our show is always positive, hilarious and clean!
